

The Void

The place the server sends you while it's magic recharges. Many report of having incredibly powerful enchants in this location. Players often fight here as there is nowhere to run nor nowhere to hide along with the fact there are plenty of custom abilities. It is said that more valuable materials can be found the higher you climb.

Dragon using his powers has gifted a fraction of his powers to certain players to help maintain the disguise of Dragonstone. With his gift they became powerful beings sworn to not disrupt the actions of the average player only to maintain passage between the islands he put in there for the players to enjoy. These players bear a pickaxe symbol by their username.
